Most useful - The Freedom of Information Act, the Privacy Act and Their Impact on CIA

STATINTL

Previously worked in, and am still involved to quite an extent, in a branch responsible for answering credit and employment inquiries on current and former employees. The Privacy Act is of utmost importance in a function of this type.

Least useful - Technical Counter Measures (even though I am not involved in the most interesting segments of the program)

- C. Did you feel the session on the Administration Directorate/Management & Advisory Group (AD/MAG) was beneficial? Why? yes

It made me aware, for the first time, that there is a channel through which to direct grievances which are not EEO's functions. I always felt that if a grievance was not an EEO function, that there just was no component that could handle it in spite of

D. Other Comments:

I found the course most interesting, enlightening and most of the material was presented in such a way as to stimulate interest on the part of the audience (even when that material was cut and dry and of minimal interest to the audience). As it turned out, the segments of the program which I found most enjoyable were either those parts which I did not have an interest in because of lack of contact with the subject or those segments which I have contact with but feel are rather dull.

\*** I really enjoyed the connoisseurs (much to my surprise).*

Note. I could say that the most useful segment was the local hour (but I don't know if I could last for more than 4 days).
